System Basics

System Basics pages provide system requirements and information and instructions regarding the system.

For instruction on System Basics, use the menu on the left to navigate through the support site. System Basics pages apply to all user roles, regardless of permissions.